Ottawa, (AP) — Top military leaders of the North Atlantic countries will meet within six weeks to consider urgent defense problems and a plea from Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower for faster delivery of troops to his European Army.

This was disclosed last night by a spokesman for the North Atlantic council, now in session here. He said the NATO military committee would hold a session—before the Rome meeting of the council late in October—to take up all military matters demanding attention.

The military committee is made up of the chiefs-of-staff of the 12 member nations.

The council received a detailed secret report yesterday on its military operations, including the appeal from the supreme commander, but it was passed over with only a few brief comments. There was no mention at all of the Eisenhower statement.

Meanwhile, it was learned the council received a report from its deputies that they were agreed unanimously that Greece and Turkey should be associated with NATO in some way. While the deputies did not specifically recommend that the two eastern Mediterranean countries be admitted as members of NATO, it is understood they did point out many difficulties and disadvantages of any limited form of relationship.

The military report, including Eisenhower's plea, was submitted to the council by Gen. Paul Ely of France, current chairman of the standing group (military control body).

The council quickly passed on to other matters, however, after hearing brief comment from defense ministers and military leaders. These included Gen. Omar Bradley, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff in the United States; Britain's Defense Minister Emmanuel Shinwell and French Defense Minister Georges Bidault.

Italy's Premier Alcide De Gasperi drew the council's attention to the generous peace terms the Japanese got in contrast with those imposed on Italy. He touched on the treaty revision question only briefly. Later De Gasperi told a news conference he believed the best way to junk the Italian treaty was by admitting Italy to the United Nations. He said he believed he had found a legal way to get around Russia's veto on Italy's membership application but he did not elaborate.

$12,277 Found On Dead Man

Philadelphia (AP) — A total of $12,277 in one and five-dollar bills—some buried under oatmeal in a half-filled box—was found yesterday on the body of a 60-year-old dental technician who collapsed and died on a North Philadelphia street.

Temple University hospital attendants uncovered numerous secret pockets, jammed with bills wrapped in brown paper, in the clothes of Jesse W. Laverly when they searched him for identification.

The box of oatmeal, containing $6,500, was in a paper bag the man carried.

Relatives told authorities Laverly "didn't believe in banks" and carried his money with him at all times.

Senators Demand Investigation Of Brannan Agency

Washington (AP) — A group of Republican senators demanded an investigation of the Agriculture department yesterday and Secretary Brannan accused them of undertaking a "fishing expedition" for political purposes.

Senator Kem (R-Mo) and 16 other GOP senators called for the inquiry, saying it was needed to determine whether officials of the department have misused public funds.

The Republican group introduced a resolution based on charges aired in a Senate speech last week by Senator Williams (R-De) that a Kansas City Mo., firm leased properties from one Federal agency for less than $1,000 a month and rented them for $382,201 in 20 months to another government agency.

Williams said the firm leased properties at Camp Crowder, Mo., from the War Assets administration and promptly rented them out to the Agriculture department's Commodity Credit Corp.

28th Division Assigned To 'A Strategic Mission Right Near Iron Curtain'

Harrisburg (AP) — The commanding general of Pennsylvania's Europe-bound 28th Infantry Division told the General Assembly last night the division will be given "a strategic mission right near the iron curtain."

Maj. Gen. Daniel B. Strickler spoke to both House and Senate on a visit to the Capitol. He was given an ovation as he appeared in the Senate.

Strickler, as lieutenant governor, presided over the Senate for four years. He is also a former member of the House.

Strickler said the 28th Division will remain in Europe as long as world conditions require.

The Keystone State's infantry division was inducted into Federal service about a year ago and has been undergoing training at Camp Atterbury, Ind. It is slated to leave for Europe soon for duty.

Speaking before his former colleagues, Strickler told the lawmakers he was proud of the Pennsylvania soldiers under his command.

"In all my career," Strickler declared, "I have never had a finer, better behaved group of men than I have in my division. They are interested tremendously in their assignment and eager to do a job."

"The situation of military training has changed vastly since the days of World War One and Two. Today the problem of logistics and supplies is greater but it only means we have to do things on a more business-like basis."

Prince said his gifts came from R. J. Blauner, who at the time was vice president and general manager of Lithofold. But he added that he wouldn't do anything more for Blauner "than I'd do for any one else."

Prince said that as chief of loan operations for the RFC he assigned a new loan examiner to the Lithofold case after the firm repeatedly had failed to get approval for loans. Eventually the loans were granted.

Tax Program Approved By House Group

Harrisburg (AP) — A $138,250,000 compromise tax program started to move in the House last night without any surface indication that the Senate will support it.

Eight bills, backed by the House Republican leadership were introduced and approved by the House Ways and Means committee within an hour. They include a one per cent levy on real estate transfers.

The package was wrapped up to replace the one-half of one per cent income tax bill which has been stalled in the Senate Finance committee since April. A subsequent stalemate on taxes has forced the Legislature into its longest session in 175 years.

But the lawmakers got down to brass tacks in preparation for adjournment, tentatively fixed for September 28. The House formally moved to stop the introduction of new bills, except for appropriation measures, on Wednesday.

The Senate Republican caucus, scene of countless hours of tax debates for several months, touched only briefly on taxes at its session but held off any decision on the House GOP tax package until later in the week.

"It was the opinion of the caucus that it would not do anything (on the compromise tax program) until the House passed the bill," said Sen. James S. Berger (R-Potter), caucus chairman.

The House package, in addition to the real estate transfers tax, proposes increasing from 10 per cent to 20 per cent the inheritance tax on estates left to persons other than direct heirs, collecting 30 months of corporate net incomes in the next 24 months and closing a number of loopholes in imposts on insurance, inheritance and gross receipts on public utilities.

House leaders expected to call for a floor vote on the tax program on Wednesday or Thursday.

Nominations Meet Delays

Washington (AP) — President Truman's nomination to two Federal judgeships in Illinois were ditched yesterday by the Senate Judiciary committee.

The committee refused to either approve or disapprove the judge-ship choices Mr. Truman has been plugging over the strenuous objections of Senator Douglas (D-Ill.).

And some trouble, at least, seemed to be brewing, too, for other men Mr. Truman has picked for high office.

The Senate Foreign Relations committee decided to hold hearings on his appointment of Philip Jessup as a delegate to the United Nations. It decided, too, to have a subcommittee look into the qualifications of Chester Bowles to be ambassador to India.

The judiciary decision not to approve or disapprove of the two judgeship nominations—those of Joseph G. Drucker and Cornelius J. Harrington—was not the same as outright rejection. It amounted, however, to bottling them up where they can get no action by the Senate.

Hydrogen-Bomb Program Calls For Spending More Than Billion Dollars On Single Plant

Washington (AP) — Grim efforts of the United States to perfect a hydrogen bomb—the most devastating, key explosive for the H-bomb, costs $500,000,000 a pound as made from atomic reactors.

Most knowledge of the H-bomb is highly secret. Dr. Leo Szilard, a top atomic scientist, said last year that it could be rigged to create a dust cloud of death, killing all humans in the world.

Considering present requests, the United States has marked more than $7,000,000,000 for atomic—and H-bomb—development. The cost of perfecting the first A-bomb was estimated at $2,000,000,000. It was announced last July 1 that this nation had spent $4,900,000,000 on the career of the atomic bomb.

The Atomic Energy commission then had $1,400,000,000 in unspent funds, and had a request before Congress for another $1,200,000,000.

The huge expenditure for the Savannah plant is for construction alone. Some idea of the ultimate cost of the frightful weapon is obtained from the fact that plutonium, key explosive for the H-bomb, costs $500,000,000 a pound as made from atomic reactors.

The AEC declined to say how much of that sum is devoted to the H-bomb.

Meanwhile, Adm. William F. E. Fechteler, chief of naval operations, announced the Navy now has carrier crews trained to handle atomic bombs. Men in the ship crews and pilots of carrier planes have been drilled along that line, he said.

The planes, Fechteler told a news conference, will be used against naval targets ashore or afloat. The Navy already has two types of planes that can operate off a carrier and carry atomic bombs, the AJ attack plane and the P2V Neptune patrol bomber.

Nuclear fission weapon experts in the last year reportedly have developed a compact size atomic bomb which can be handled in comparatively small planes.

Allies Smash Counter-Blows, Capture New Hill Positions

U. S. Eighth Army Headquarters, Korea, Tuesday, (AP)—Allied artillery smashed remnants of a North Korean column weaving down a mountain trail yesterday as United Nations infantrymen wrung new hill position from the Communist mountain fortress line in eastern Korea.

Despairing Reds hurried one death charge after another at the Allies, hoping to halt the slow but relentless U. N. advance.

Everywhere American, Turkish, Ethiopian and South Korean troops either stopped the bleeding Reds in their tracks or stormed forward along hills and ridges that seemed impossible to climb—let alone fight over.

The eastern battle of the hills dwarfed some new U. N. hills assaults in the central and western sectors of the 156-mile battle line.

The new attacks along the Yonchon and Kumhwa fronts were brisk actions; but did not compare to the Homeric struggle for the eastern hills.

The eastern battle, now in the ninth day of its second phase, was becoming one of the epic struggles of the Korean war.

Without the least doubt, the fighting was the heaviest on the whole battle front since the last great Communist offensive in May. Already it had lasted much longer. A cold rain fell over most of the Korean front Monday.

U. N. Delivers Bid To Reds

Tokyo, Tuesday (AP)—An American liaison officer delivered to the Communists at noon yesterday Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway's latest offer to resume the suspended Korean truce talks.

Ridgway himself made a 12-hour trip to Korea yesterday, but it evidently had no connection with the armistice effort.

Instead, the United Nations commander conferred with Gen. James A. Van Fleet, Eighth Army commander, and other field officers on the sharpening warfare. He returned to his Tokyo headquarters last night.

A headquarters announcement called it "a routine trip," but there was no denying the gravity of the military situation, with Reds massed strongly in the west.

Ridgway's message to the Communist command repeated previous statements that a mistaken strategy on September 18 was the only genuine violation of the Kaesong neutrality zone, out of the many which the Reds have alleged.

Jet Crashes Aboard Essex; 7 Men Lost

Washington, (AP)—The Navy announced last night that "two men are dead, five men are missing and 15 are injured as a result of a jet aircraft crash and serious fire aboard the Navy's carrier USS Essex yesterday (Korean time)."

The ship was in operation off Korea.

"A twin jet Banshee (one of the newest operational fighters used by the Navy) coming in for a landing on the carrier deck, failed to hook the arresting gear properly, bounced over all deck barriers and crashed into other jet aircraft parked on the fore part of the flight deck. The resulting fire destroyed four jet fighters and extensively damaged four others. There was no major damage to the ship."

Crowd Forces Principal To Stay Home

Hall, Ind. (AP) — A threatening crowd and a roadblock of cars yesterday forced a school principal who refuses to salute the flag to stay away from his school.

The principal, 38-year-old William Lewis, is a member of Jehovah's Witnesses. He sought help from the governor and from a circuit court and said he will not resign or give in to what he called "mob rule."

Lewis is the $3,200-a-year principal of the Hall elementary school in Morgan county about 30 miles southwest of Indianapolis. He said he had been warned 200 to 300 persons would gather yesterday to "mob me."

He called for state police protection Sunday night, and renewed his plea to Democratic Gov. Henry F. Schricker yesterday. He cited an Indiana law forbidding discrimination in hiring of teachers on religious grounds.

About 50 persons, most of them women and many of them parents of pupils, milled about the one and one-half story red brick school yesterday morning. Some in the crowd voiced threats and used abusive language.

Eighty-seven parents have signed a petition demanding that Lewis be ousted as principal and as teacher of 40 pupils in the fourth and fifth grades.

The British minister is here for the Atlantic council meeting.

"Weakness is a temptation to the would-be aggressor," he told the Women's Canadian club. "We must build up our strength as quickly as we can, not as a threat to anybody else, but because we know it is the best means of insuring peace."

Memphis, Tenn. (AP) — A "man beating his wife" complaint came into the sheriff's office. But Deputies R. G. McElroy and H. J. Beach said the report wasn't quite correct.

Geneva, N. Y. (AP) — The eight triplets are the first in social security history to be born after their father's death.

So they'll get $82.20 a month from the Federal government until they are 18 years old. Their mother, Mrs. Eunice Haight, will receive $55.44 a month.

Madeline Nels, manager of the social security office in this western New York community, said the boys—David, Daniel and Donald—were entitled to the money under the old age and survivors insurance law.

The triplets were born August 17, four months after the father, Richard Haight, died of a brain tumor.

Operations To Coincide With Tests

Washington (AP)—Approximately 5,000 Army, Navy and Air Force men will conduct atomic warfare training in connection with forthcoming tests of nuclear weapons at Frenchman's Flats, Nevada.

The Army announced yesterday that a battalion combat team with supporting service troops will be provided. The personnel will be drawn from six continental armies in the United States.

Within the safety and security requirements of the test program, the announcement said, "units in 'Exercise Desert Rock' will have the opportunity to test the principles of organization and training applicable to military operations under conditions involved in atomic warfare."

"The troop units involved will establish a battle position for a battalion combat team, including entrenchments, barbed wire and emplacements."

"Prior to the detonations the troops will withdraw to pre-determined positions of safety."

"This military phase is a training exercise which is separate from the scientific developmental work at the Atomic Energy commission test site."

The commission announced August 28 that a new set of atomic explosions would be set off in the near future at the Nevada proving ground. No date was announced.

Commanding the atomic test exercise of troops will be Maj. Gen. William B. Kean, former commander of the 25th Infantry Division in Japan and Korea and now commander of the Third Corps at Camp Roberts, Calif.

The exercise will be under general supervision of the Sixth Army with headquarters at San Francisco.

The announcement said the Army is carrying out the exercise "to take advantage of the opportunity afforded by these activities (the atomic weapons tests) to indoctrinate uniformed personnel of the three services in the military aspects of nuclear detonations."

The Atomic Energy commission and the Defense department never have disclosed what kind of atomic explosions were set off in a series of tests at the Nevada proving grounds last January and February.

There was wide speculation however, that the tests included use of atomic bombs designed for tactical use on the battlefield, as distinguished from the mass destruction type bomb used in attacks on cities.

The commission's August 28 announcement said the forthcoming tests would include both atomic explosions and the use of conventional high explosives.

Shinwell Reports Russia Building Big War Machine

Ottawa, (AP) — British Defense Minister Emmanuel Shinwell declared yesterday he has "solid evidence" that Russia has 215 divisions, 300 submarines and 19,000 aircraft and is making great efforts to build its power further.

"Like us, they are making great efforts," Shinwell said, "and their forces are growing in power and numbers every day."

The British minister is here for the Atlantic council meeting.

Kintner Rites Planned For Wednesday

Chadwick, N. J. — Lloyd Bush Kintner, 63, former manager of International Boiler Works, East Stroudsburg, where he resided nearly all his life, died here at 7:30 p.m. Sunday.

Mr. Kintner had been an employee of International Boiler Works for about 40 years. He retired from the management in February, 1949 due to indifferent health.

For a number of years Mr. Kintner had been a member of the East Stroudsburg Police commission.

He was a member of East Stroudsburg Lodge, No. 319, BPOE, and Stroudsburg Lodge, IOOF.

Mr. Kintner was a son of the late George and Laura Bush Kintner. He was born in Grendell, N. J.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Ethel Kintner; two daughters, Mrs. John Masters and Mrs. Melvin McElwain, both East Stroudsburg; a son, Major Richard Kintner, Levittown, L. I.; a sister, Mrs. George Gernert, Chadwick, N. J.

Funeral services will be held at 8 p.m. Wednesday in Lanterman funeral home, East Stroudsburg. Rev. Adan Bohner, Kunkletown, will officiate. Interment will be made at the convenience of the family in Prospect cemetery.

All members of Fort Penn Lodge No. 134, IOOF, will meet at the funeral home at 7:45 p.m. Wednesday to conduct Odd Fellows services for Mr. Kintner.

Heater Funeral Plans Announced

Requiem mass for Ouyval Stanley Heater, 49, of 819 Phillips St., Stroudsburg, who died of shotgun wounds early Sunday at his home, will be at 9:30 a.m. tomorrow at St. Matthew's Catholic church, East Stroudsburg.

Friends may pay respects after 7 p.m. today at Daniel G. Warner funeral home, Stroudsburg. Rosary will be said at 8 p.m. at the funeral home.

Burial will be in the family plot in the Gates of Heaven section of Laurelwood cemetery, Stroudsburg.

Rites Held For Lynne K. Lewis

Funeral services for Lynne K. Lewis were held yesterday at 11 a.m. at the late home, Dingmans Ferry. Rev. Harold C. Eaton, East Stroudsburg Methodist pastor, officiated and burial was in Delaware cemetery, Dingmans Ferry.

Palbearers were Charles W. Middaugh, Irving Smith, E. B. Kintner Jr., William Myers, Levi Jagger and H. W. Dye. Lanterman funeral service was in charge of arrangements.

Students From 11 Schools To Compete In Vocational Agriculture, Home Ec Show

Area secondary school students will have livestock, canned goods, flowers, on display at their own fair, starting Thursday in Stroudsburg. It is the 11th annual vocational agriculture and home economics educational exhibit, at Wyckoff-Sears, on Quaker Alley, off Main St.

Eleven schools will be represented, with the number of exhibits in home economics alone running to more than 900. Participating students are in grades seven to 12.

The exhibit will be open to the public Thursday through Saturday. Prizes will be awarded to winners at 8 p.m. Saturday in the recreation room of the Wyckoff-Sears store.

Youngsters will set up home economics exhibits tomorrow between 11 a.m. and 5:30 p.m. Judging starts at 9 a.m. Thursday.

The exhibits all will be connected with instruction received in home economics courses in school, either having been made in school, or being a home project or home practice following instruction by the home economics teacher.

A new class at this year's exhibit will be competition in "leisure time activities."

Items entered will include chairs, tables, artifacts, braided rugs, quilts, all types of handwork. Students were required to make, refinish or renovate the larger items. Judging of the new class will be on a basis of the number of techniques and materials used, the colors and designs in separate items, quality of workmanship and originality.

Teachers largely responsible for organizing and arranging exhibits by their students were the following home economics teachers:

Florence Grimm, Greene-Dreher High school; Mrs. Jean Callie, Stroudsburg High school; Mrs. Lenita Merritt, Pocono Township High school; Mary Hall, Stroudsburg High school; Mrs. Grace Wildrick, Tobyhanna Township High school; Mrs. Margaret Stella, Bangor High school; Mrs. June Young, Barrett Township High school; Mrs. Ruth Theisen, East Stroudsburg Junior High school; Mrs. Marion Meekes, Polk Township High school; Catherine Scanlon, Coolbaugh Township High school; and Margaret Ingram, Chestnut Hill Township High school.

Contributing toward the cash premiums paid winners are Tucker Chevrolet, E. A. Bell Insurance Co., Wyckoff-Sears, the Stroudsburg Garden club (in the flower arrangement division), Sears-Roebuck Foundation, Monroe County Clearing House association, Pocono Record, Inc., publishers of The Daily Record, and J. C. Penny Co.

Dr. O. M. Shlanta, 600 Sarah St., will be away from the office from Thursday, Sept. 20, through Monday, Sept. 24—Adv.

Log-Sawing Contests To Feature Show

A special feature of the Wyckoff Farm show will be the log sawing contest on Friday, September 21 starting at 7:30 p.m. This show opens on Thursday morning, September 20 and closes Saturday night, September 22. Cooperating in this contest are Wyckoff's store, W. B. Frisbie, vocational supervisor and A. E. Hitt, county agent.

Each FFA chapter can be represented by a team of two young men. They will saw through a 12-inch green beech log.

A Monroe county farmer's contest will follow the FFA event with the first and second teams having the privilege of representing Monroe county at the State contest at the State Farm show in Harrisburg in January. The men will saw through a green beech log about 15 inches in diameter.

All contestants are to furnish their own saw.

Services Planned For Mrs. Calkins

Pocono Lake—Services for Mrs. Marjorie Miller Calkins, High Rose, N. M., who died there Saturday, will be held 2 p.m. Thursday at Pocono Lake Reformed church.

Officiating will be Rev. Russell Adams, pastor of the Seventh Day Adventist church, Stroudsburg. Burial will be at Pocono Lake cemetery. Mrs. Calkins was a former Pocono Lake resident.

Friends may pay respects at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Miller, Pocono Lake, from 6:30 to 8 p.m. Wednesday.

DPA Staff Drops With Case Load

During the past year there has been a decrease of better than 28 per cent in the number of employees of Monroe County Department of Public Assistance. This reduction compares with 11 per cent on a state-wide basis.

Reduction here is confined to the visitor staff. A year ago there were seven. Today there are five.

Policy of the department is to keep the staff size as nearly as possible in line with work load. Reduced relief rolls mean reduction in staff.

In the case of the local department, reduced relief load accounted for furlough of one visitor. Another resigned. Most of the state-wide reduction in staff was accomplished by not filling vacancies caused by resignation.

Mrs. Eleanor G. Evans, State secretary of public assistance said that staff cannot be obtained and trained fast enough to keep up with a rapid increase in case load and, for this reason, when the case load turns downward the ratio of staff work load is allowed to increase temporarily until it has been determined that the down-

Boy Kills Three Squirrels With Only One Shot

Washington C. H. O., (AP)—Danny Wipert, 12, has a real hunting yarn to tell his pals.

Hunting with his father Roy, Saturday afternoon, Danny saw two squirrels on a stump. As he drew a bead with his shotgun, a third squirrel jumped up on the stump. He killed all three with one shot.

Yosko Speaks In Defense Of Race Tracks

Portland — Senator Joseph Yosko, (D) Northampton County, defended his proposed legislation to permit establishment of three race tracks within the state at a meeting of the Community Board of Trade of this community at Fire-side Inn, Markersboro, N. J. recently.

Yosko emphasized that if we are going to be "lily white," that is one thing, but undisputed statistics show that tens of thousands of Pennsylvanians each year go to neighboring tracks in New Jersey, New York and Maryland.

Each year these states are reaping hundreds of thousands of dollars in taxes off Pennsylvanians which could just as well come to Pennsylvania, Yosko pointed out.

The Senator prefaced his discourse on legalized racing in Pennsylvania with a brief discussion of the state's taxation problem. He said legislators are now trying to tap new sources of tax monies.

The inadequacy of the state's "outmoded" auditing system was highlighted by Sen. Yosko. Actually, he maintained, new sources of revenue are not necessary to meet the budget set-up for the next two years.

During the business session a letter was read from a Brooklyn manufacturer who is seeking a factory building 50,000 square feet. No building of this size is available. Board of Trade officials will so advise.

Clifford Sebring filed a report on possibilities of forming a building and loan association. Max Effross proposed that a committee consult with the directors of Portland National bank before proceeding further with this proposal.

USAF Refuels Bombers In Air At Night

Washington (AP) — The Air Force is equipping planes and training crews for refueling in the air of bombers at night.

The technique, which will enable medium bombers to operate on ultra-long range involving night as well as daylight flight, was described in an announcement by the Boeing Airplane Co., which makes the B-50 and B-29 medium bombers and tanker planes, for aerial refueling.

The system consists of five red and green "traffic lights" which, operated electronically as the tanker and the bomber near each other, help the bomber pilot guide his plane into final contact position. The four red lights show him whether he is "up," "down," forward or "aft" from the closing tanker. When the correct position is attained, the green light goes on.

Boeing worked out the "flying boom" method of refueling for the Air Force more than a year ago, using an extendible "flying boom" which acts as the fuel line. Tanker planes include converted Boeing C-97 transports and B-29 bombers.

Old Autos End Race With Steamer 37-Minute Winner

New York, (AP) — A steam-driven auto and an equally ancient gas buggy wound up their Chicago-New York race yesterday, the steamer the winner by about 37 minutes in their battle against age and time.

The two relics of the byways of yesteryear—a 1913 Stanley Steamer and a 1911 Stoddard-Dayton gasoline machine—chugged into modern Rockefeller plaza and were greeted by a crowd of about 300 persons after the showdown.

They had settled the argument that has been bothering hardly anybody—except the two drivers—just before reaching the New York City line. The race edged in near-by Yonkers, N. Y., at 2:15 p. m. The steamer was the better vehicle in the race from the Windy city that began a week ago.

The steamer, driven by 76-year-old Jack Brause, one-time vice president of the Stanley Steamer Co., wheeled to the finish line a minute ahead of Rube De Launty's buggy.

But the nip-and-tuck last lap, which began yesterday morning at Poughkeepsie, N. Y., some 75 miles away, did not reflect the see-saw battle of the roads. On the way from Chicago, through Detroit, Cleveland, Buffalo and upstate New York—some 1,086

Bang It to 'Em!

Now we're beginning to make some hay in the Oatis case. Acting jointly, the United States, Great Britain and France have forbidden Czechoslovakian airplanes—which are operated by the Communist government of that country—to fly over Western Germany.

That is the first concrete thing which has been done in retaliation for the outlandish imprisonment of William N. Oatis, American reporter in Prague.

The Czech Communists have demanded return of their train which France (Casey Jones) Jarde steamed into Western Germany on a "freedom flight" last Tuesday.

And they are sure to be irritated by the asylum given the 26 refugees aboard the gate-crashing train. They'd like to have them back, too, perhaps for another one of their big "treason-trial" shows.

Maybe we should have kept those 87 Czechs on the train who asked to be returned. But probably it wouldn't have been of any help in the Oatis case. For people are expendable in the Communist way of doing business.

But trains, especially locomotives, are valuable. At first, American authorities said they intended to hold the "refugee train" until the Czechs were willing to talk about the Oatis case.

Later dispatches indicated the Americans were expected to return it. We hope they don't. The loss of a train is likely to make an impression on the Communists.

The air wall the Allies have put up against Czech planes is a more telling action. It either will put the Czech airlines to the West out of business or compel them to fly a circuitous and costly route by way of the North Sea.

Meanwhile, we might try the same sort of stunt on Czech truck and rail commerce into Western Germany.

The State Department hasn't responded to Congress' unanimous demand for shutting off U. S. commercial relations with Czechoslovakia. That resolution was passed three weeks ago.

There are many ways of pressuring the Czech Communists out of their sadistic impassiveness in the Oatis case. They have harassed, annoyed, badgered and bludgeoned us long enough. The only way to handle a bully is with a bulldozer.

Blood Transfusion

A new method of blood transfusion through injection into the arteries rather than the veins has been discovered by a pair of research doctors whose dramatic new technique is recommended for cases where heart and pulse beat have disappeared.

It is not to be a substitute for the normal intravenous transfusion, the doctors explained, and even in cases where it is used they recommend a return to the more commonly used method after a patient revives from the transfusion into his arteries.

The fascinating development is much faster at getting blood to the vital coronary vessels, which feed the heart, and blood thus injected can reach the coronaries on the right side of the heart in a matter of seconds.

What this will mean in extreme cases, where a small amount may even be injected by a syringe, is that many a man or woman virtually at death's door can be saved. The effect on the wounded at dressing stations just off the battlefield should be considerable.

All in all, the new technique can prove of inestimable value in the continuing struggle of the medical profession to prolong life.

There are more women than men eligible to vote in the United States.

Try And Stop Me

By Bennett Cerf

F. Hugh Herbert, author of two triumphant Broadway comedy hits, Kiss and Tell and the current The Moon Is Blue, gathered some of his most delectable dialogue by merely listening to the prattle of his own two adolescent daughters, Diana and Pamela. The line "Ever since I started wearing brassieres, mom and pop have been watching me like a hawk," for example, came from the lips of Pamela.

It was Diana who gravely informed him that the conduct of doctors was governed by a "hypocritical oath." Now Diana has reached the age where she is understanding Barbara Bel Geddes in the lead part of the New York company of The Moon Is Blue, and the song in her heart is Stardust Melody.

An eager young thing begged Playwright Forester Wilde, "Tell us about the days when you were just a struggling writer." Wilde answered severely, "I know only two kinds of authors; those who struggle — and those who have given up the struggle."

Hollywood

By Gene Handsaker

Hollywood — Under the cool, beautiful, British exterior of Jean Simmons beats the heart of a hench.

Her tastes in records range from the classical, of which she has a large collection in London, to Spike Jones, who's represented in her 1,000 or more discs here. She "loves" also the renditions of Bing Crosby and Tony Martin, hillbillys in general and Rosemary Clooney singing "Come On a My House." Frankie Laine and Les Paul are "most exciting."

In nine months in America she has taken also to hot dogs, she and bridegroom Stewart Granger once ate six pieces at a baseball game. She likes the "wonderful" weather and vanilla and strawberry ice cream sodas.

What does she like least? "Radio," the blue-eyed, 22-year-old star replied. "I can't get used to the commercials. A wonderful program comes on, then they start talking about shampoo, say. Or they start telling you the news; then they leave that and say, 'Now the important news — you must see so-and-so.'" Miss Simmons, under contract to RKO and scheduled to start "Androcles and the Lion" soon, has been away from the cameras a year. After so long an idleness, she disclosed, "I've a feeling I shall never be able to do anything again."

These Days — By George E. Sokolsky

The Post Office

The only solution that the post office seems to have for its deficits and inefficient operations is to get Congress to raise rates. That used to be true of some monopolistic enterprises, such as public utilities, until the Federal and State governments established regulatory agencies to protect the public. Mere rate-raising or price-raising does not end deficits as any department store manager can tell you.

The post office is entitled to increased rates, not on the basis of the deficit it produces, but only if, after providing advantageously efficient services, it establishes evidence that higher wages, greater benefits to its employees and costs of supplies and operations require them. Up to now the post office has rejected the most constructive suggestions of the Hoover commission; it has reduced its services; it has not done much for its best employees, the ordinary mailman.

Post office bookkeeping is difficult to read because of the high cost of hidden subsidies. If the government desires to subsidize the various carriers for their services, Congress should pass subsidy acts with due discussion as to their relative merits.

The post office got the Senate to boost second class mail on magazines 60 percent, over a three-year period; 30 percent on newspapers. It is doubtful whether this increase will reduce the total deficit, which is estimated at $550,000,000. The increase on magazines and newspapers could reach a fair figure, unless, with good management, the newspapers and magazines develop other means of distribution that might be less costly.

Perhaps the Senate dislikes magazines having made this distinction. This is not important one way or the other, because what is urgently needed is the application of modern management methods to the operations of the post office. Dodging that necessity and putting an additional load on magazines and newspapers (mostly weeklies, for the latter category) does not really deal with the post office deficit.

If the argument is that the post office is a social and not a business institution, then it is not necessary to increase rates at all. The post office deficit is less than we are spending to improve the standards of living through our various agencies over the face of the earth. As a social institution, the post office could be operated at a deficit out of the goodness of our hearts.

If, however, this agency of government is to be managed as a business that pays its way, then a reorganization is essential in methods of operation, bookkeeping, mechanization and so on. It is only after the engineering and accountancy problems have been worked out that the postal scale can be determined on a scientific basis. This the Hoover commission, tried to impress on the Congress, with little success. Both Congress and the administration have resisted the Hoover commission's recommendations, probably because efficient operation would eliminate the relations between politics and the post office which neither Congress nor the administration is anxious to bring about.

The law of diminishing returns still operates and the raising of rates on many special services (which the Hoover commission recommended) may abolish those services. For instance, the service called "Special Delivery." Of ten a letter marked "Special Delivery" arrives after the regular mail. It has to be delivered by hand and the manpower is sometimes not available for such purposes. It is not impossible that if the "Special Delivery" services costs too much, users will abandon it altogether.

As for third class mail, which includes advertising circulars, the users of this service will probably discover that for the money spent, they can get a better return if they advertise in newspapers. Every morning, I receive a heap of such circulars, most of which I throw away without reading them at all, and the sender is out that much money. Maybe the post office could save itself lots of trouble by abolishing this category altogether.

It would seem that Congress is going about this business rearing forward. In a word, desiring to reduce the post office deficit, Congress should deal with this problem as any business would, call in the engineers and accountants to see whether costs could not be cut, efficiencies increased, loopholes plugged, waste eliminated. Instead, all that is suggested is that rates be raised. That is an easy but not a good enough solution.

Washington Report

By Fulton Lewis Jr.

Washington — For the benefit of busy members of the American Bar Association now holding their annual convention in New York City, I think it is appropriate to help them get acquainted with some of their guest speakers.

For instance, there is Alan Barth, editorial writer for the Washington Post, who is slated to bring ABA members the latest word on protection of individual rights. Most ABA members are capable of taking care of themselves, but this might be helpful to some who appreciate a backdrop of facts while they listen.

Barth is the writer who chews editorial page paper for the Washington Post whenever the FBI of the House committee on un-American activities needles suspected Communists and assorted left-handers clinging to the Federal payroll. Along with the Washington Post, Barth has taken quite a beating recently. First he went down with typewriter ribbons flying over Alger Hiss. Then there was William Remington, then Dorothy Bailey. Of course, the Post and Barth still have confidence in Owen Lattimore and Dr. Philip Jessup, the State departments' roving nuisance, but the embrace isn't quite so tight.

A note of doubt seems to have been creeping into the Post's editorial page recently, for some unexplained reason. It certainly isn't due to Barth. He is still weeping in behalf of suspected Reds but on other pages.

In a recent issue of the Reporter Magazine, a sort of crying lower for those who weep for the good, old New Deal days when every liberal with a heart of gold had an idea on how to get some of it out of the public vaults at Fort Knox, Barth took another trial run on trying to eliminate the government's loyalty program.

The loyalty review board recently was given authority to fire a Federal employee if reasonable doubt exists about his loyalty. Barth says this power is being interpreted by the board as an "authorization to reduce even the rudimentary safeguards of individual rights afforded by the loyalty program in the past."

The ABA speaker also seems for the "approximately 850 charged employees who must therefore undergo again the long, painful, expensive and hazardous process of proving their innocence," as a result of the new loyalty program regulations. And he gets nervous over the "number of forced resignations submitted voluntarily because employees do not choose to run again the gauntlet of clearance, because they do not care to submit their future to the terrible risk that a star chamber tribunal will consider, on the basis of anonymous hearing, if a reasonable doubt as to their loyalty exists."

That sounds pretty horrible, and maybe the loyalty boards in Washington have purchased torture racks and thumb screws. That, of course, would be unfair. Only the Communists are allowed to wring confessions out of Americans by such means.

What Barth overlooks — but ABA members should not — is that when the loyalty program got going a lot of creeps on the Federal payroll hit the road. They didn't want anti-Communist investigators looking into their past, especially since they had signed an oath that they had never belonged to a Communist cell. There is a jail sentence attached to lying about such things.

Another ABA speaker is Zechariah Chafetz, who, thinks, and talks just like Barth. He is opposed to the Smith Act — the one that put the Communist leaders behind bars — and the Mundt-Nixon Communist control bill, is name two. He is going to talk

Looking at Life

By Erich Brandeis

Brandeis

"O say, does that star-spangled banner yet wave O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave?" Remember our national anthem? Don't you hear it at every patriotic occasion? But what does it mean? Where is the SPIRIT of that anthem? "Blest with victory and peace, may the Heav'n-rescued land 'Praise the Power that hath made and preserved us a nation'."

Where IS victory? Where IS peace? "Something has gone out of our lives. I don't know just what it is — but it was something grand and beautiful and fine."

Else, why do we let those treacherous Chinese and North Koreans call us liars? The brave soldiers of Francis Scott Key's time would have made short shrift of them.

Why do we kowtow to the wishes of Great Britain, as if we had become one of her colonies again? Why do we permit her to trade with Russia and recognize Red China?

Why do we let Premier Schuman of France have the impudence to tell us that we must get the permission of his country and the other United Nations members before we can continue our fight in Korea the way it ought to be fought?

And why did we not bomb Manchuria and North Korea when we could have stopped the war that way and saved thousands of our men?

Why do we permit Vladimir Prochazka, the Czech ambassador, to tell Truman and Acheson to mind their own business — that the Oatis case is CLOSED? Why do we let India thumb her nose at us with one hand by boycotting the Japanese treaty meeting, while stretching out the other for our wheat with which to feed her starving millions?

Why do we suffer Andre Gromyko and his band of hijackers in our country at all, instead of kicking them out? And why do we let the Communist traitors, convicted of treason, go scot-free on low bail to do us more harm and to destroy our country? In the days of the Star-Spangled Banner they used to shoot the traitor, not coddle him.

Why do we grant diplomatic immunity to all the thousands of United Nations riff-raff that come to our country, live high at our expense, hang around our night clubs and laugh at us? Why on earth are we members of the United Nations at all? What have these "united nations" done for us except bleed us white?

"And the Star-Spangled Banner IN TRIUMPH SHALL WAVE, O'er the land of the free and the home of the BRAVE."

Not if things go on like they are now. Instead it looks more like the last verse of "Yankee Doodle": "It scared me so I hooped it off. Nor stopped, as I remember, Nor turned about till I got home, Locked up in mother's chamber."

Lines To A Lady Bullfighter
(Occasioned by the performance of Miss Patricia McCormick, 23 years old, of Big Springs, Texas, who got up to kill the bull after being tossed by it in the Juarez ring.)

Thrown by a bull, she said
"Whodaa?"
Then, jumping up, the bull she slew,

A girl faced danger rare and

No knitting and no darning for
A gal today when life's a bore;
She grabs muleta and a sword
And says "So what!" if she is gored.

V
Into the bull ring does she march
With manner not remotely arch;
The bull may snort and stamp and slam;
To her he's Mary's Little Lamb!

VI
The bull proceeds to smack her hard,
(For women he has slight regard),
Into the air he tosses her . . .
She comes down screaming, "As you were!"

VII
Then chirps she with a jaunty air,
"One moment while I fix my hair,"
And, getting up, proceeds to hiss
"Stop stalling and get on with this!"

VIII
She gives the bull a lethal poke;
He bellows "Can't ya take a joke?" . . .
"Ease up and stay your dainty arm."
I wouldn't do you any harm!"

IX
Milady's of a harder brood;
She lets the critter have it good
And says, as in the dust it curls,
"YOU SAY THE SAME TO ALL
'THE GIRLS!'"

C Of C Directors Approve Eight-Point Working Program

Development Of Airport Primary Aim

An eight-point working plan for Pocono Mountains Chamber of Commerce which makes development of Mount Pocono Airport for commercial air travel the primary project was outlined, studied and approved yesterday by the chamber board of directors.

During the next 12 months the promotion and prosecution of the expansion of runways and other facilities at the airport will be pressed in order to achieve a start in air passenger, mail, express and freight service.

Currently another $6,000 is sought to permit extension of one runway as a black-top surfaced landing strip. Contracts have been made with Monroe county commissioners on this matter.

All-American Airways is ready to start such service as soon as runways are lengthened to comply with Federal regulations on runway lengths.

Other points on the 12-month working agenda include:

Industrial expansion in the community. Along these lines the industrial committee headed by Sen. Montgomery F. Crowe reported two sound industrial prospects have already been contacted.

Available buildings have been shown and one of the prospects is now in process of deciding whether or not to erect a new building.

Another phase of the agenda deals with a study of necessity and feasibility of another inter-borough bridge and study of a plan for routing traffic in congested points.

Both of these, however, must await final report and findings of a recent traffic survey made by the State Highway department's Bureau of planning at the request and through a financial contribution of Stroudsburg council.

New Chamber of Commerce headquarters on a first floor space or erection or purchase of a new Chamber of Commerce business office with first floor facilities will also be part of the year's work projects.

Continued functioning by the Retail Trades division of Chamber of Commerce and prosecution of the Memorial Parkway project are other phases of the work timetable of the chamber's directors.

Board members approved plans for observance of Pennsylvania Week, including the Business Education day schedule for October 18.

Directors authorized fixing October 18 for the annual meeting of the chamber membership to coincide with the dinner meeting planned as a part of Business Education day. A prominent speaker is being engaged for these joint sessions.

Authorization was given to mail out ballots containing names of nominees for the board of directors of the chamber. Half of the board membership is elected each year.

Directors also approved a plan of cooperation with the current Defense Bond sales campaign. The chamber's activities will be confined to promotion of payroll savings in an effort to have one or both of the Stroudsburgs designated a Flag City.

A Flag City is one which has 80 per cent of industry's employees, or 80 per cent of industry under payroll savings.

Retail Trades division reported their Easy Dough merchandising plan is successful in its early stages. First auction of the campaign will be held at Sherman Theater October 11.

Injury Requires Hundred Stitches

Pittsburgh (AP)—Physicians took 100 stitches in the scalp and face of a two-year-old boy after an auto wreck yesterday.

Police said Mrs. Norma Young was driving on a Pittsburgh street when she noticed her son, James Jr., was about to fall from the seat. She reached for the boy and the car careened into a tree, James smashing into the windshield.

Hospital officials said the boy is not in serious condition. His mother escaped without a scratch.

Court Sentences Two Boys To Reformatory On Charge Of Criminal Attack On Girl

Roseto—Two youths who attacked a 13-year-old Roseto girl September 3, yesterday were ordered to reform schools by President Judge William G. Barthold, after hearings in Northampton county court yesterday.

One, a 15-year-old from Stockertown, was sent to Glen Mills reformatory. The other, 16, from Bangor, was committed to Camp Hill reformatory.

The two had been charged with rape, assault and battery and conspiracy to commit a felony. The sentences were listed as for an "indefinite" period.

A third man, described as the leader of the two youths, was expected to face Judge Barthold today. He is William F. Engler, 34, Nazareth RD 3, who also is accused of raping the child. Police said Engler had confessed his part in the assault.

Pocono Manor—The USO is getting set to become again the biggest volunteer show on earth.

During World War Two, magicians, movie stars, athletes, bosomy show girls, actors, dancers, musicians, covered the globe to bring entertainment to American soldiers.

With the intensity of present U. S. war preparations mounting daily, the United Service Organizations and USO member agencies are lining up a whooping expansion program to keep pace.

The plans are being worked out here by 58 USO and member agency officials from all over the nation. The conference, which started yesterday, is the first of its kind since the USO was reactivated February 1, this year.

Grand Jury Frees Two Roseto Men

Roseto—For insufficient evidence, a Lackawanna county grand jury has freed two Roseto men police had accused of raping a 16-year-old Maryland girl July 4.

They are Lawrence A. Pacifico, 22, and Phillip Casello, 22, who were alleged to have attacked the girl in Lackawanna county. Police had claimed the assault occurred when the pair picked up the girl and offered to drive her to Scranton after she had been reportedly attacked by two Bangor men in Monroe county.

The grand jury returned a no true bill.

Many Great Problems Face New York City

Mount Pocono—Staggering problems facing New York and other great American cities were outlined to members of the Rotary club here last night by John Riedel, engineer for the City of New York.

Presented by John Crandall, program chairman, Mr. Riedel said three things are basic to all great city developments . . . water, food and communications.

Greater New York was created in 1898 and in 1899 its budget was $98 millions. In 1950 the budget was $1.1 billions, the engineer disclosed.

He expressed a strong plea that Pennsylvania join New York and New Jersey in full acceptance of plans for development of the Delaware River's water supply as proposed by Interstate Commission on the Delaware River Basin. New York, he announced, uses one billion gallons of water a day.

Turning to traffic, he said 500,000 cars use a five-square-mile area and the city is beginning to suffer from traffic stagnation.

This situation has arisen because merchants and businessmen insisted on more and more traffic. A stagnation point has now been reached which is very harmful, he noted.

First zoning resolution adopted in United States was passed in 1916 by the city's Board of Estimates.

Another critical problem, Riedel said, is where to place additional utility facilities. He said there are so many gas, sewer, water, electric lines under the city's streets that there is no room for more.

This situation crops up, he said, as the city is working on bringing the Big Inch natural gas line into the city.

The Greater New York area is also faced with the task of providing some 30 to 40 new schools annually at a cost of $1.5 millions each, Riedel noted.

The city has an assessed valuation of $19 billions. Working under a 10 per cent borrowing capacity, that leaves the city $1.9 millions for financing operations.

Pontiff Offers Encouragement To Polish Bishops

Vatican City (AP)—Pope Pius XII told the Catholic bishops of Soviet-dominated Poland yesterday that "the battle still rages. You must still endure the terrible assaults of the enemy."

In a letter to the bishops and priests, who cannot come to Rome, the Pontiff declared:

"Your battle is not against flesh and blood, but against principalities and powers, against rulers of a world of darkness, against a spirit hostile to spiritual things."

He did not mention by any direct reference the Communist control under which Poland has fallen. But he told the bishops and priests to stand fast in their faith, whatever difficulties.

House Gets Legislative Pay Measure

Harrisburg (AP)—A bill increasing salaries of future members of the General Assembly from $3,000 to $5,000 a session was introduced in the House last night under bipartisan sponsorship.

The measure was sponsored by Reps. Charles C. Smith (R-Phila.) and H. G. Andrews (D-Cambria), floor leaders of their respective parties. "I think this is a fair and honest bill, and is no more than what members of the Legislature deserve," Smith said in submitting the proposed pay increase. Andrews expressed similar sentiments.

The $2,000 salary increase would go into effect regardless of whether the present method of holding sessions once every two years is continued, or plans to hold annual sessions are adopted.

If the biennial session plan is continued, legislators would continue to receive their present expense allowance of $1800 a year under the bill. However, if the annual session plan is adopted, the bill would reduce expense allowances to $1200 a year since salaries would be increased.

The present mileage rate of five cents a mile would remain the same for lawmakers under the proposed law.

The salary increase, if approved, would become effective December 1, 1952, automatically taking all present assemblies from receiving it unless reelected.

Pittsburgh (AP)—Delegates to the Pennsylvania Medical Society's 101st convention heard yesterday that while the new medicines cortisone and ACTH are life savers in some cases, their indiscriminate use may cause serious harm.

ACTH is a hormone obtained from a gland in the brain of a pig or cow. It acts on the human body's adrenal gland to produce cortisone. In some cases, cortisone is made in the laboratory and then given the patient to obtain the same result.

The warning on the use of the medicines was voiced by Dr. Har-

Johnson Suit Delay Sought By Government

Washington (AP)—The government yesterday asked an additional month in which to file a reply brief in a suit by former U. S. District Judge Albert W. Johnson of Pennsylvania for unpaid salary.

William Stern, Justice department lawyer who has been handling the government's side of the court case, has been out of the city on other cases.

Johnson resigned from the bench in 1945 while the House Judiciary committee was investigating his judicial conduct. He is seeking $24,166 in back pay and restoration for loss of the $10,000 a year salary he was getting at the time he resigned.

Court of Claims Commissioner George H. Foster has recommended that Johnson's claim be dismissed. A month ago, Charles J. Margiotti of Pittsburgh, attorney for Johnson, filed a brief disagreeing with Foster's recommendation. The government's brief in reply to Margiotti's was due yesterday.

Rotarians Fight Railroad's Decision To Abandon Service At Mount Pocono DL Station

Mount Pocono—A move on the part of the Lackawanna railroad to completely abandon all types of service at the local railroad station will be battled under the sponsorship of the Mount Pocono Rotary club.

Council Acts To Correct Condition

Bangor—Donald Marsh, local contractor, was awarded a contract at a special session of the borough council last night to alleviate the borough's troublesome water drainage problem on S. First St.

His bid of $1,032 was accepted when a bid by J. H. Beers for $770 was discarded. Beers had based his estimates on 15-inch pipe, rather than the 30-inch pipe specified by the council.

One other bid for $2,882.40 was received from Patsy DeMarlo. Presiding at the council meeting was John Farley, council president. Seven members attended.

Homes Plagued By Crickets

Cleveland (AP)—Eighteen angry women, carrying paper sacks full of crickets, visited Service Director Samuel David in city hall yesterday.

They told him the crickets were overrunning their homes near Cleveland's Kingsbury dump, then released a few in his office.

After a workout with a fly swatter, David ordered a 10-foot strip cleared between the dump and private property, a DDT barrage in the strip, and a special watchman to guard against "wildcat" garbage dumping.

meaning elimination of passengers, freight and express service for the wide resort region served by the station . . . was posted on the station September 8, officials of Rotary club said last night.

Unless a formal protest is filed with the PUC within 30 days from that date the abandonment will automatically follow.

Aid will be sought from every organization in and around this borough, the Monroe county commissioners, Pocono Mountains Chamber of Commerce, Pocono Mountains Vacation Bureau, Sen. M. F. Crowe and Rep. John S. Shotwell.

Rotary club officers will also seek aid from all other interests who would be affected by abandonment of service at the station.

"In addition to the factual findings against such a move, we intend to battle abandonment of one of the most scenic station stops in the entire Pocono region," Rotary officials said.

Filing of the formal protest will probably mean a hearing in Stroudsburg before a PUC examiner who will receive testimony on the merits of the case.

Constitution Day Marked At Opening DAR Luncheon

In a Constitution Day address before the Jacob Stroud chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, which marked their opening luncheon at the Indian Queen hotel yesterday afternoon, Arlington W. Williams warned that the American form of government was in danger, not so much by outright repudiation of its Constitution, as by undermining its principles for a temporary advantage.

The Constitution of the United States, he said, embodies not only the machinery of our government but also the form of life we live. It differs in five important ways, he said, from the body of laws which govern the totalitarian governments which are challenging it.

The American Constitution holds that the people, not the government itself, are supreme; it imposes constitutional limitations which safeguard against tyranny; it sets for the separation of powers so that no man is at the mercy of laws which have been made, administered and taken to judgment by one group; it preserves local self-government and provides a Supreme Court which can declare unconstitutional any laws not in accord with the Constitution.

He warned against inroads against local self-government and a weakening of the power of the Supreme Court, and pointed out that in its amendments, the Constitution was concerned with granting of privileges to individuals: including equality and freedom to speak as a man pleases, to worship God in his own way, to keep that which he honestly acquires and that he shall not be deprived of his liberty except when judged to have broken the law by a jury of his peers.

"On this 161st anniversary of the drafting of our Constitution," he said, "we should re-think our democracy and put the Constitution to the test of experience and comparison." Under the Constitution, he pointed out, America has grown from a nation small in area and population to the richest and most powerful nation in the world. A comparison with other forms of government shows that our people are the freest, richest and most fortunate of any in the world.

All legislation, even when concerned with social problems or the welfare state, should be subject to the test of how that legislation agrees with the spirit and the letter of the Constitution, he said.

Mrs. G. Raymond Hood, regent, presided at the meeting, and welcomed the members to another club year. Yearbooks, containing the full year's program, prepared by Mrs. John G. Shupp, were presented as well as copies of the new Constitution which had been drafted by Mrs. Floyd Bachman and approved last spring.

Announcement was made of the state conference to be held in Harrisburg October 13, 15 and 17, and of the 25th anniversary banquet of the Dal Rock chapter, Pottsville, to which local members are invited. The luncheon will be held September 28 with reservations to be in Mrs. Hood's hands by next Monday.

Mrs. Hood also announced a fall Thrift Sale, under the direction of Mrs. Milo Rasey. Mrs. Floyd Bachman was introduced as the new membership chairman of the chapter, and Dr. Edna B. Rosenkrans as finance chairman. Hostesses for yesterday's luncheon were: Mrs. T. F. Rhodes, chairman; Mrs. Nelson Boers, Miss Ida Bennett, Mrs. Frank Lehar and Mrs. Eleanor Bunn.

Centerpiece for the table was of red, white and blue fall flowers.

Mt. Pocono Rep. Women To Meet

Mount Pocono — The meeting of the Pocono Mt. Republican Women will be held tonight at 8 o'clock at the residence of Mrs. George H. Humphrey, Fairview Ave., this place, instead of Walker's Hall, the usual place.

This will be the first meeting of the fall season and a large attendance is urged as plans will be made for the coming months of the meeting.

S.S. Ex. Board Plans Annual Convention

Plans for the annual convention of the Monroe County Sunday school convention were made at the meeting of the executive board held last night at Mohr Hills. Herbert Bellaires, president, opened the meeting with Scripture reading and prayer.

Minutes of the last meeting were read by the secretary, Mrs. Mahlon Hallett and approved.

The annual county convention will be held at the First Presbyterian church, Stroudsburg, Oct. 24-26 inclusive. All interested are asked to note the change in date for the sessions.

The convention speaker will be Dr. Harold Paul Sloan, pastor of the Wharton Ave. Methodist church, Philadelphia. He is noted as a lecturer and spoke before audiences of between 2,000 and 3,000 every Sunday during the past summer at the Ocean Grove auditorium. He will speak each night of the convention at 7:45 o'clock. There will also be a special music.

A nominating committee was appointed to suggest officers to be elected at the annual convention as follows: R. M. Frantz, chairman; Dr. C. W. Dupee and Rev. G. F. Weinland.

Mrs. Hallett, the secretary of the association, requests that all annual reports be sent to her at the earliest convenience to enable her to tabulate them for the state convention. Reports are to be made as complete as possible, she states.

Infants Are Baptized At Grace Church

Oscar Bernarr Snyder, III, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar B. Snyder Jr., of 117 Anomink St., East Stroudsburg, was received into the baptized membership of Grace Evangelical Lutheran church by the sacrament of Holy Baptism Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the sacred font in the sanctuary. Miss Annamaria Salata, the maternal aunt, and Nathan Smith, of Lehigh, served as sponsors with the parents.

Also witnessing the baptism were Mr. and Mrs. Oscar B. Snyder Sr., paternal grandparents; Mrs. Noble Salata, maternal grandmother; Miss Doris Snyder, paternal aunt; Mr. and Mrs. Gerald A. Snyder and daughters Susan and Linda (Mr. Snyder is the paternal uncle); Donald Lohrmann and Miss Betty Jones. The infant son was born at the Monroe County General hospital on Saturday, July 7.

Also baptized was Frederick Charles Schwartz, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Keith Allen Schwartz, of 42 Prospect St., East Stroudsburg. Serving as sponsors with the parents were Mrs. Rose Schwartzholder, paternal great-grandmother; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Marsh, maternal grandparents; and Mr. Charles Schwartz, paternal grandfather. Frederick was born at the Monroe County General hospital on Sunday, July 1. Rev. William F. Wunder, Grace church pastor, administered the baptismal rite.

Registration will be at 10 o'clock. Mrs. Russell W. Dickson, political activities chairman, will speak at the morning session; Mrs. Meade D. Detweiler Jr., legislative panel, and Mrs. Hannah Durham, Congressional panel will also be heard.

Luncheon will be held at 12:30 with Hon. William S. Livengood Jr., secretary of internal affairs, and Mrs. Helen M. Schluaff, president of the Pennsylvania council, and Mrs. E. J. Lefler, vice chairman of the Republican state committee will be luncheon speakers.

Deadline for reservations is September 20, and they should be made with Mrs. J. Russell Custard, 2034 J 11.

Stroudsburg Woman's Club Announces Opening Luncheon

The Stroudsburg Woman's club has made early announcement of its opening fall luncheon which will take the form of a luncheon meeting on Monday, October 8, at 1 p.m.

The speaker will be Dr. J. William Frey, whose subject will be "Amazing Pennsylvania Dutch Language and Folklore." A Pennsylvanian by birth and background, Dr. Frey tasted of rural culture as a boy in eastern York county, attended schools in Harrisburg, and was graduated from Dickinson College. He continued his studies in Giessen, Germany, and holds his M. A. and Ph. D. degrees at the University of Illinois. He has been writing articles on various phases of Pennsylvania Dutch, and took part as singer and banjo player at the first all-Pennsylvania Folk Festival at Bucknell University. He is co-editor of "The Pennsylvania Dutchman," the official publication of the Pennsylvania Dutch Folklore Center in Lancaster.

Mrs. W. R. Toeve, chairman of ways and means, is serving as chairman of reservations for the luncheon and will be assisted by the following committee: Mrs. B. I. Frazier, who will take care of Stroudsburg reservations; Mrs. Grant Nitrauer, South Stroudsburg; Mrs. Charles Rhinehart, East Stroudsburg; Mrs. J. Frank Grimm, names on the waiting list; out-of-towners, Mrs. Clifford Heller.

All money and reservations must be in by Friday, October 5. Any cancellations or late reservations should be made directly with Mrs. Leo Dornbos, third vice president, who is in charge of hospitality.

Pocono Fire Aux. To Raise Funds Through Bazaar

The Ladies Auxiliary of the Pocono Township Volunteer Fire Company will hold a regular meeting on September 20 at 8 p.m. in the firehouse at Tannersville.

Due to all the inclement weather during the various carnivals held by the firemen, financial returns were none too good. In order to furnish and retain first class equipment for the use of all residents of Pocono township, the ladies have volunteered to raise money for this purpose and at this first fall meeting, Mrs. Cora Smith will speak and suggest to all the ladies ways and means of making various articles to be sold at a Christmas bazaar. Plans for this bazaar will be discussed at this meeting and it is hoped that there will be a large number of members present.

All members are requested to bring scissors, thimble, needle and thread and any remnants or pieces of material that could be used in making articles for sale. Entertainment and refreshments will be served at this meeting.

Everyone is asked to turn out on Tuesday, September 18 at 9:30 a.m. to clean the kitchen in the firehouse, so as to get it in shape for all fall and winter activities.

E. S. Methodist WSCS Discuss Work For Fall

Mrs. Isabel J. Leedom, president of the WSCS of the East Stroudsburg Methodist church, presented the program for the year's work at the meeting of the executive committee held Thursday afternoon, Sept. 13. Plans were adopted for the fall activities.

The first meeting of the society will be held Thursday night, September 20, at 8 o'clock in the Guild room of the church. Rev. Harold C. Eaton, pastor of the church, will speak on the theme, "New Horizons for the Christian Home." His topic is in line with this year's pronouncement in the Advance for Christ. Refreshments will be served by the circle of which Mrs. Howard Duncomb is leader.

The first of the monthly family supper and prayer services will be held on Wednesday night, September 26.

Announcement was made that the North District Philadelphia Conference of the WSCS would be held in the East Stroudsburg Methodist church Thursday, September 27. The morning session at 10:30 o'clock will open with devotions conducted by Rev. Harold C. Eaton, pastor of the host church.

An officer training program will be held and an interesting program has been planned for others in attendance. Luncheons will be served at noon by the circles of the East Stroudsburg society at a nominal fee. Reservations are to be made with Mrs. Isabel J. Leedom, Marshalls Creek, by September 25.

The afternoon session will open with devotions brought by Mrs. Albert Brooks. The speaker for the afternoon will be Miss Edith Rohrer, from the Hollywood community center, Hazleton, Miss.

Shelley Winters, Inconsistent Mercurial Blond, Rated Hollywood's Greatest Puzzle

By Armand Archard

Hollywood—The biggest puzzle of the film industry is Shelley Winters. No one can figure her out. She has created the biggest star since Garbo. Yet she has neither the beauty nor the ability of the Swede. And Shelley hates to be alone.

The best way to describe Shelley is "mercurial." She is all the definition implies: volatile, swift, active, eloquent, clever and temperamental.

The only thing consistent about La Winters is that she's inconsistent. After a couple of weeks opposite her in Meet Danny Wilson, Frank Sinatra admitted she's "pure mercury, always up or down but rarely in the same place."

Shelley admits she has trouble figuring herself out. "Right now," she says, "I'm at sixes and sevens trying to figure out whether I want to be an actress or a great success."

"Is it possible for a girl to be a Betty Grable in one picture and a Sarah Bernhardt in another? Gee, I guess I shouldn't have said that. It sounds presumptuous."

Shelley's love life is as great as a quiz show. Once just before she met Farley Granger when someone asked how her romances were coming along, she said, "At the moment they're as cold as my last name."

Then, when she began dating Farley, she tried to convince us that "it's strictly maternal. Farley has an unfortunate habit of wearing maroon socks with brown suits."

She loves to debunk conventions. She ridiculed westerns until she was cast in Frenchie. She has to be dragged to film functions, yet she will quietly do benefit performances without any fanfare.

Shelley admits that sometimes she gets caught at trying to be clever. Once she made the statement, "People think you're sexy if you're dumb. I want to prove they're wrong. I've taken up reading."

A few days later she said, "Where men are concerned women should act dumb. Intelligent men don't go for brainy women. An intelligent guy can't relax if he's gotta keep up with a gal who spends a romantic night spouting Einstein's theory."

So why take up reading Shelley? "Are you kidding?" she said. "I only said 'act dumb' not 'be dumb.'" opening of a three-day quadrennial constitutional convention at which 250 delegates will formulate policies for the 36,000 members of 77 local unions in Lackawanna and Luzerne counties.

dumb."

Some of us think Shelley is her sweet self because she delights in shocking people. Actually, she does it to reassure herself. She really suffers terribly from a feeling of emotional insecurity. And she agrees, "Everyone," she says soberly, "thinks I'm so sure of myself and sometimes I could just die."

She forgets her tantrums immediately afterward. A press agent who had quarreled with her the day before and could not forget as quickly as she, refused to answer her "hello" in the studio commissary. Shelley said "Hello" again.

The press agent turned his back. Shelley flared, "I take back both 'Hello' and walked out!"

Shelley cannot decide whether she wants to be sexier off the screen or on. Once, when advised against going out with a wolfish producer because he might tear her clothes off, she snapped, "So I'll wear an old dress."

When she told her studio executives she was off to Europe this summer, they pleaded with her to stay home. "They told me," she says. "Shelley, you stay away from Europe. There's enough trouble over there."

She is constantly called to the front office for a bawling out. Her free quotes to the press invariably embarrass some top officials. Other complaints include her failure to come home when called. Directors frankly admit she's a pain in the neck because she "helps them" too much.

Her appearance in public always create repercussions. Her attire is far from orthodox. Her usual garb at a swank club consists of an old sweater and skirt and low-heeled shoes.

She always has six irons in the fire and is constantly begging for a loan-out for some special project which is usually far from suited to her.

I saw an executive give her the devil after he read an interview she had given.

"If I was normal," she replied, "I'd want to write about me?"

The planks that Dad and Jimmy are using for Towser's new house cost just about three times what they would have just a few years back. In fact, lumber now costs far more for all kinds of houses...including, perhaps, your own.

But don't blame the men who cut the trees or those who sell the lumber. Blame the dollar. It just won't buy what it used to!

The dollar is squeezing your telephone company, too. All the materials we use... from lumber to lead...cost more. Take, for example, a 30-foot telephone pole. Ten years ago, it cost $3.65. Now the price is $7.45—more than twice as much.

In spite of all this, we're providing good, constantly improving telephone service at rates that remain surprisingly low. Telephone rates could go considerably higher...and still telephone service would represent a smaller part of the family budget than it did 10 years ago.

'Al' Johnston Dies; Headed Rail Union

Cleveland (AP)—Alvan Johnston, 76, the chunky, hearty-voiced man known to thousands of railroaders as "Al," died in his sleep yesterday morning.

In the 25 years that he was grand chief engineer of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, the most dramatic incident came in May, 1946, when he joined in a row with President Truman. It ended with Johnston calling his 8,000 members back to work minutes before the President asked Congress for power to draft the striking engineers.

The President had suggested a compromise proposal for settlement to Johnston and the late Alexander F. Whitney, president of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen. But they accused him of "double crossing" the railroad workers.

Mr. Truman seized the nation's rail lines and asked the workers to stay on the job. They ignored him, and for two days the railroads were shut down.

The President announced his intention of running the trains with troops. About half an hour before he went before Congress to ask draft legislation, Johnston called off the engineers' strike, and the trainmen followed suit. The House adopted the bill asked by the President, but in the Senate it was killed off under the leadership of Sen. Robert A. Taft (R-O).

Johnston, a Republican, endorsed Thomas E. Dewey for the second time in 1948. Whitney, who had been a Truman supporter, cooled off in time to make peace with the President and renew his support that year.

In 1950, when Taft was opposed bitterly by many labor organizations in his campaign for re-election, Johnston publicly endorsed the co-author of the Taft-Hartley act.

Johnston suffered a heart attack Sunday night at his home in Shaker Heights, a suburb. He had retired last year after 50 years of membership in the brotherhood, and was succeeded by a member of his staff, James P. Shields.

Harriman Refuses To Intervene

Tehran, Iran (AP)—W. Averell Harriman was reported yesterday to have refused to take part in Premier Mohammed Mossadeq's ultimatum tactics with the British.

An informed source said President Truman's trouble-shooting envoy rejected Mossadeq's request to relay an ultimatum giving the British two weeks to resume negotiations on the bitter oil issue or face expulsion of British technicians still working in Iran.

Mossadeq immediately went into a two-hour huddle with Shah Mohammed Reza Pahlavi after receipt of a letter from Harriman. The letter was said to have warned that serving the ultimatum would only worsen British-Iranian relations. The premier also called the Cabinet to a special meeting at his home.

Life of Riley

By JIM RILEY
Sports Editor

North Atlantic league baseball chatter is being heard in various parts of Monroe county once again, after one season of idleness. However, the talk being heard at the present time is undoubtedly a conversation dealing with the question of whether the circuit should resume an active role, after watching from the sidelines during the past campaign. Sunday's meeting was reportedly a very good affair and in slightly more than a month league and club officials will decide definitely if they want to swing back into the diamond grind.

Right now I believe the choice of whether the league operates or remains idle for another summer is up to the people in the towns comprising the circuit, including the Stroudsburg and surrounding areas of Monroe county. Those people that complained of no professional baseball through June, July and August of this season now have a chance to do something about it for next year. All interested parties are urged to contact Marty Baldwin, president of the Poconos, and let him know they want the type of baseball that has graced Gordon Giffels field since 1946.

There are naturally a great number of hurdles to be cleared if the league is to swing back into action again. However, most of the teams seem anxious to return to the grind and all that's needed to assure North Atlantic activity again is the solid support of Johnny Q. Public. If the people are behind the movement it will be made, as owners have found that players will be available next season. All the men behind the scene want to see at the present is that the paying customer is ready to shoulder his share of the burden. Quick action by this area's population will go a long way toward returning the class "D" circuit to an active status.

Speaking of the North Atlantic league brings to mind the fact that Frank Radler, pilot of the Stroudsburg Poconos for three seasons, returned to his home in Red Bank on Sunday night, following a very successful campaign as manager of the DeLand entry in the Florida State league. Frank's club won both the regular season and playoff titles, with the likeable pilot playing a major role in both feats.

Harry Warner, a member of the Boston Braves' farm system, has also returned to his home in Red Bank, after a season of playing first base for Evansville, of the class "B" Three "I" league. Jack Rothenhauser, a resident of Easton, was also in the Stroudsburg deland yesterday as a visitor. Jack finished the past campaign with Radler's Deland club. Warner and Rothenhauser both played under Frank when he was at the Stroudsburg helm, prior to the North Atlantic league's taking on an inactive role.

Greene-Dreher High school has decided to drop interscholastic soccer during the coming campaign and concentrate on an intramural soccer and touch football program. The major reason for dropping the sport was the fact that only two other schools in Wayne county and no Monroe county schools play the game. The two soccer high schools in Wayne county are Waymart and Hawley, although at least one of these schools is also expected to throw in the sponge as far as the fall sport is concerned.

A paved outdoor playground, with at least one basketball court and the same number of tennis courts, is expected to become a reality in Newfoundland in the very near future. Henry "Hank" Arneberg is back at the Greene-Dreher athletic helm again, after one year's leave of absence to study for his master's degree at New York University. Arneberg is expected to turn out another capable cage machine from the school that annually makes a habit of turning out good basketball squads.

Bartonville — Harold Kresge, called by darkness in the ninth frame. It was also decided at the meeting that all proceeds, including the concession stand, of the first game of the final playoff series will go to Rudy Mueller, Kunkletown shortstop who suffered a broken wrist in a game in August and has been unable to work since that time. The motion was made by Clinton Getz, Lake Harmony, and seconded by Bob Hawk, Barrett. It was approved unanimously.

Gilbert "Gil" Overbeck and Kunkletown managers, were voted the most popular pilots in the circuit, after a tie vote was counted. Both leaders will receive trophies.

Six teams were represented at the meeting, during which much routine business was also settled. A protest lodged by Saylorburg, against Tobyhanna in the final playoff contest, was denied and the score reverted to the eighth inning, with Tobyhanna on the long end of an official 6-5 count. Bosox Down Pale Hose To Stay In Race

By Bill King
Boston, (AP) — The Boston Red Sox sluggers snapped out of their batting slumps yesterday to continue two and a half games off the pennant pace by trouncing the Chicago White Sox, 12-5, and stigmatize their 1951 competition at 11-games all.

With Ted Williams and Clyde Volmer homering and Fred Hatfield bashing a bases-loaded triple, the Red Sox supported a gradually weakening Ray Scarborough with a 13-hit attack.

After being pulled out of deep holes in the sixth and seventh innings, Scarborough had a shutout going into the ninth, when the White Sox bunched five of their ten hits for all of their runs.

Don Lenhardt paced their belated drive by blasting his fifteenth homer to score "Minnie" Minozzi and Phil Masi ahead of him.

Beaten three times previously by the White Sox this season, Scarborough was given a four run margin to work on in the first inning. Howie Judson opened by walking Dom DiMaggio and then hitting Johnny Pesky with a pitched ball.

The bases were loaded when Hatfield came up for his first turn and he laced a three bagger into right field. The blow, however, was worth only two runs because big Walt Droz stumbled after rounding third and was run down.

The Red Sox clinched matters with a two run blast against Luis Aloma in the fourth and during the next frame Volmer highlighted a five run rally by making his twenty-second fourth baser account for three tallies.

Williams had a perfect day, going four-for-four with his one hundred and fifty-first base on balls, two singles, a double and his thirtieth homer. The latter, however, did not come until the eighth inning, when the Red Sox were leading 11-0.

Fain Stretches Advantage In American Loop Batting Race To Nineteen Points Over Field

Chicago (AP)—Ferris Fain, Philadelphia Athletics first baseman, stretched his lead this week in the American league batting race to 19 points at .341.

Fain, who last week held a .332 percentage, broke sharply away from George Kell, Detroit, .322; "Minnie" Minozzi, Chicago, .321 and Ted Williams, Boston, .319. Last week these three were tied for second place.

Rounding out the top ten batters in statistics released yesterday were: Bill Coan, Washington, .316; Johnny Pesky, Boston, and Gil McDougald, New York, tied at .314; Larry Doby, Cleveland, .312; Bob Avila, Cleveland, .309; and Nellie Fox, Chicago, .305.

In the individual specialties, three players stand out. They are Dom DiMaggio of Boston, Gus Zernial of the Philadelphia A's, and Minozzi.

DiMaggio leads in runs with 108 and most hits, 182. Zernial leads in home runs with 32, and runs batted in, 124. Minozzi paces the stolen base field with 29.

Three are tied for the most doubles at 33. They are Kell, DiMaggio and Minozzi.

Boston's Ellis Kinder tops pitching with 11 and 2 for a .846 average, while Vic Raschi, New York, leads with 151 strikeouts.

Art Metal, Kulp's Foundry Gain Verdicts In Opening Round Of Gold Medal Tournament

Art Metal and Kulp's Foundry scored victories in the first round of the Gold Medal Softball tournament at the East Stroudsburg Playground last night. Art Metal took the measure of the Mountain Aces, 9-4, while Kulp's Foundry rolled over Jack's Market, 12-3.

The outcome of neither game was ever in doubt as the winning aggregations piled up early leads and coasted the remainder of the dis-

Campanella Injured As Dodgers Bow

Chicago (AP) — If the Brooklyn Dodgers somehow blow the National league pennant, yesterday's 5-3 defeat by the Chicago Cubs might have been the killing punch. Their lead now has shrunk to four games.

But worse for the Dodgers, their star catcher, Roy Campanella was laid low by a pitched ball which struck him on the left ear in the second inning.

Cheered by news from the hospital that Campanella was not seriously hurt, the Dodgers me-

Brooklyn	80	51	.638	—	13
New York	88	37	.697	4	9

thodically fashioned a 3-0 lead and apparently had big Don Newcombe's nineteenth victory safely stowed away.

Then trouble hit like a tornado in the seventh as "Hank" Sauer and pinch-hitter Gene Hermanski, an ex-Dodger, each belted a two-run homer. Hermanski's blow was off reliever Clyde King, who was charged with the defeat.

The Cubs added another run in the eighth, mainly on Mickey Owens' double, but it was unneeded against the suddenly wilted Dodgers.

The Dodgers now have 13 games left to play, compared with nine for the second-place New York Giants, who were idle yesterday. It's still a tremendous job for the Giants to overhaul the Dodgers, but it can be done, especially if Campanella is slow getting back in harness.

At the hospital, it was reported the husky Negro receiver would be kept under observation, at least over night. Campanella currently is hitting .325, second only in club batting to Jackie Robinson.

Campanella went down like a felled ox when Omar "Tuck" Lown's high inside pitch caught him flush on the left ear. Lown was undisturbed by the mishap, obviously accidental, and pitched a fine game in which two of the three Dodger runs were unearned.

The other was Andy Palko's twenty-fifth homer with none aboard in the sixth. It was Lown's fourth win against eight defeats.

Newcombe, had beaten the Cubs four times previously this season without a defeat, allowed only two hits until the Cub seventh inning explosion.

Musial Almost Certain Of Batting Crown

New York, (AP) — The race for the 1951 National League batting championship is getting to be just like the pennant race.

There's still an outside chance that Stan Musial could be beaten out of his fifth batting title just like Brooklyn could be beaten out of the pennant. But it isn't enough to make the Cardinal clouters jittery.

Sian's average dropped three points during the past week, but after Sunday's game he had a .367 mark. That kept him 21 percentage points ahead of Philadelphia's Richie Ashburn and the same distance ahead of the average that won for Musial last year.

Musial made eight hits in 226 times at bat last week, bringing his average down from .370 to .367. Ashburn belted out eleven in 23 times up to advance from .340 to .346.

Only Changes

Those were the only significant changes in the marks of the leaders last week as most of the top ten picked up a few points. Monte Irvin of the New York Giants benefited the most, moving up from ninth place to tie for fifth among the leaders when eleven hits in 28 times up lifted his average from .309 to .313.

Closest to Ashburn among the leading regulars were Jackie Robinson, Brooklyn, .336; and Roy Campanella, Brooklyn, .325, whose marks dropped two and four points, respectively. Then came John Wyrostek, Cincinnati, and Irvin, .313; Al Dark, New York, .312; Ralph Kiner, Pittsburgh, .312; Carl Furillo, Brooklyn, .305, and Harry Lowery, St. Louis, .303.

Ashburn became the first National Leaguer to get 200 hits this season, raising his total to 206. Musial was second with 195. Musial continued to lead in triples with 12 and to trail Kiner in runs scored, 121 and 116.

Other individual leaders were: runs batted in — Irvin, 109; doubles — Dark, 38; home runs — Kiner 40 (to 38 for Brooklyn's Gil Hodges); stolen bases — Sam Jethroe, Boston, 35; pitching — Preacher Roe, Brooklyn, won 20 and lost 2 for 9.09, and strikeouts — Warren Spahn, Boston 157.

Grid Business Meeting

Monroe County's semi-pro football team will hold an important business meeting at the Indian Queen Hotel tomorrow, at 7 p. m.

Eastburg Eleven Ready For Action

Floyd Williams, regular right end, was the only injury on the Stroudsburg High school grid machine following its 6-0 loss to Bangor High, while East Stroudsburg's Cavaliers escaped all serious injury while bowing to Slattington 20-13 last Saturday.

Williams suffered possible torn ligaments of the elbow, but the extent of his injury won't be officially known until tomorrow. However, the wingman is the only doubtful starter among the Mountaineers for Friday night's clash with Emmaus, at Gordon Giffels field.

Coach Jerry Stulgaitis put his maroon and white clad charges through a long drill last night, working hard to correct the mistakes that appeared during the Bangor encounter. A rugged drill schedule is in store for the Stroudsburg team the remainder of the week.

Long Drill

Jack Kist, head mentor of the East Stroudsburg contingent, worked his charges until 7:15 last night and a similar practice grind is on the schedule for the Mountaineers again today.

Kist announced that Captain Marlin "Ducky" Martz is limping with a charley-horse of the left leg, but is expected to be in top shape by kickoff time on Saturday, when the Cavaliers oppose Pen Argyl, on the latter's home field, at 2 p. m.

Kist also made it known that Walt Peeney, regular lineman from last season who missed the first game of the present campaign, would be ready for action against Pen Argyl.

Commisso Wins Golf Crown

Cambridge Springs, Pa., (AP) — Frank Commisso of Rochester, N. Y., shot a seven-under par 67-66-133 over the par 70 Riverside Golf Course yesterday to win the North-western Pennsylvania Open golf championship.

Alton "Toxy" Lyons of Jamestown, N. Y., was second with 67-67-134 and Dick Shoemaker, Cleveland, O., third with 69-67-136.

Fourth

Mike Pavella of Washington, Pa., came in fourth with 70-67-137 while defending champion Johnny Buila of Pittsburgh, finished fifth with 68-61-139.

Kiner Makes History In National Loop

Pittsburgh (AP) — Ralph Kiner's booming bat is rewriting the chapter he inscribed last year in the record book of the National League.

The Pittsburgh Pirates' home run king now is the first player in National League history to go back to 1876 — to hit 40 or more homers in five different seasons.

In 1950, he set the old record when he did it for the fourth season. Kiner's new record gives added lustre since he has done the trick in consecutive seasons. The old record wasn't set in straight years.

The "Golden Boy" of Alhambra, Calif., clouted number 40 Sunday while the Pirates were dropping a twin bill to the New York Giants.

Most experts felt this was Kiner's year to break "Babe" Ruth's record output of 60 home runs in one season but pitchers haven't cooperated. They've walked Kiner 130 times to date, a record for the Pittsburgh club. Last year Ralph's free tickets totalled 122 passing by three the record hit by Elbie Fletcher, former Buc first baseman.

Below

Kiner is still far below "Babe" Ruth's record of belting 40 or more home runs in 11 different years in American league play. Ruth hit 54 homers in 1920, 59 in 1921, 41 in 1922, 46 in 1924, 47 in 1926, 60 in 1927 (major league's record), 54 in 1928, 46 in 1929; 49 in 1930, 46 in 1931 and 41 in 1932.

Here's Kiner's home run tally for the past four years:

Fifty-one in 1947, 40 in 1948, 54 in 1949, and 47 in 1950.

If Kiner wins the major league home run championship this year he'll become the first player to achieve that peak five years in a row. He now is leading Gil Hodges who has 38 homers.

Kiner can tie a mark set by Ruth if he leads his league again next year. Ruth led the American league in home runs six different years.

Still in the distance for Kiner to shoot at is the great Ruth's 22-season total of 714.

Rizzuto, DiMaggio Pull Perfect Squeeze Play To Give Yanks Nod Over Indians, 2-1

by Jack Hand
New York (AP) — Phil Rizzuto's perfect bug squeezed home Joe DiMaggio in the last of the ninth to give the New York Yankees a dramatic 2-1 victory over Cleveland yesterday, stretching their American league lead to one full game.

Steady Eddie Lopat, crafty Yankee southpaw ace, squeaked the desperate Tribe with a brilliant three-hitter to reach the 20-win mark for the first time in his long career.

Drama
All the drama of a World Series finale was packed into the tenth ninth when Bob Lemon loaded the bases by yielding two singles and an intentional pass to Bobby Brown.

With one out and DiMaggio straining off third, Rizzuto dumped Lemon's second pitch squarely between the box and the first base line some 12 feet from the plate.

DiMaggio, leaning off third with the pitch, was home free despite an alert work by Lemon on an unstopable play. Only a pop could have broken up this chance. And Rizzuto, perhaps the best bunter in baseball, wasn't popping.

Picking up the ball with a look of disgust written on his face, Lemon never had a chance. DiMaggio spurted home with a rush. On the way to the dugout, Lemon tossed the ball on to the screen back of home plate.

As a result of this clean sweep of the vital two-plays with the Indians, who came to town with a one-game lead. The Yankees stepped into their longest lead since September 1.

"Yogi" Berra gave the 42,072 fans little comfort when he rolled out to Bobby Avila opening the ninth. Lemon had just survived a shaky eighth by a fine finish. It seemed he had regained all his stuff.

DiMaggio rapped a hard smash to Al Rosen's left. The third baseman let the ball bounce away six or eight feet and then was unable to find the handle in time for a throw. It was scored officially as a base hit, drawing some oohs and aahs from the fans when the hit sign flashed on the scoreboard.

Single
Gene Woodling's hopper squirted past two men—Luke Easter and Bob Avila—to roll into short right field, sending DiMaggio to third. Either Easter or Avila might have nicked it with an other inch of reach.

With men on first and third and off out, Manager Al Lopez went to the hill for a conference with Lemon and catcher Jim Hegan. He decided to pass Brown intentionally, loading the bases and setting up a potential double play.

When Rizzuto came out, Lopez sent Bob Kennedy to replace Dale Mitchell in left field for defensive purposes. He wasn't needed.

Little Phil, most valuable player last year, looked at Lemon's first pitch. The second was to his liking. Down went the bunt, in came DiMaggio and the game was over. It was a bunt single, of course, because they never made the play to first base.

Hopper Named Today's Radio Program

Carlisle, Pa., (AP) — John D. Hopper, Camp Hill, yesterday was named basketball coach of Dickinson College.

He was named coach to succeed Charles "Chick" Kennedy, who died August 31.

Promotion
Frank R. Maze, head football coach, was appointed acting athletic director and head of the college physical education departments, other positions held by Kennedy. Weston Overholt, Glen Olden, Pa., was named assistant basketball coach.

Hopper, 28, graduated from Dickinson in 1948. He was a star player during his student days and later was a member of the Harrisburg Senators, in the Eastern Professional Basketball League.

Eagles Meet Worthington Mower Tonight

Eagles and Worthington Mower will lock horns in the second game of the Monroe County Softball League championship playoff series today, at the East Stroudsburg Junior High school field. The action is scheduled to take place promptly at 6 p.m.

The Eagles will be out to sweep the series in two straight games, having won the first meeting of the two teams, 11-2. However, Worthington Mower is just as determined to even the series in today's contest.

Batteries

Harold Goldy will do the pitching for the Eagles tonight, with Stan Konowalik behind the plate. Marc Decker will hurl for Worthington Mower, with Ed Rough doing the receiving.

If a third game is needed to decide the championship it will be played later in the week, on the same field.

De John Stops Sala In Second

Syracuse, N. Y. (AP) — Joey De John, 161, of Syracuse knocked out Lee Sala, 160½, of Danora, Pa., last night in 2:29 of the second round of their scheduled ten-round fight.

The match, the first staged in the new $4,000,000 War Memorial Arena, closed with startling suddenness. Sala, boxing cautiously, left himself open for a single second and De John's left uncoiled like a cobra against the Pennsylvania boy's jaw.

Counted Out

He stiffened and fell backwards on the canvas. Sala rolled over on his face at seven, but could not rise and was counted out by Referee "Babe" Risko.

It was another ten seconds before he regained his feet to reach his corner.

Tucker, Davis, Blanchard Back In Uniform, But Foes Need Not Fear This Trio Again

By Whitney Martin

Newburgh, N. Y. (AP) — Blanchard-Davis-Tucker.

What memories those three names bring back so vividly. Memories of crisp autumn days in 1944, 1945 and 1946 when Army football teams were being compared with other great college teams down through the years.

Memories of Glenn Davis, "Mr. Outside," flashing around and over taking a long pass downfield hurled by Arnold Tucker, who should have been called "Mr. Top-side," as it was he who directed the devastating Cadet attack. And of "Doc" Blanchard, "Mr. Inside," bursting through the line with a tremendous surge of power.

And here they were together again, for the first time since their graduation from the Academy in 1947.

And all in uniform, although not the same kind of uniform. Davis was logged out in a football suit of the Los Angeles Rams, with the familiar "41" on his back.

Trim

Blanchard and Tucker were neat and trim in their service uniforms, each wearing captain's bars on his collar and pilot's wings over the left breast.

Both were called back to help tutor the Cadet football squads this fall, "Doc" coaching the "B" squad and Tucker the frosh, or plebes.

Neither Blanchard nor Tucker has any particular desire to return to the gridiron.

Likes Work

"I like my work," Doc said simply.

"I wised up and realized I probably would have no place in pro football," Tucker said, "I wasn't as fast as 'Junior' (meaning Davis), nor as powerful as Doc. I had a lot of injuries during my West Point career. They had comparatively few."

"I figure this is my work, and I plan to stay in the service as long as they need me. I figure about eight years more at least. I might get the itch to play when I watch 'Junior' in the game Thursday night, but right now I have no desire to play."

The three corresponded only sparingly since leaving the Point, but that is nothing unusual for close friends, or even relatives. "Your reputation follows you," Tucker said a little unhappily.

"If I had to do it again I think I'd change my name after getting out of school."

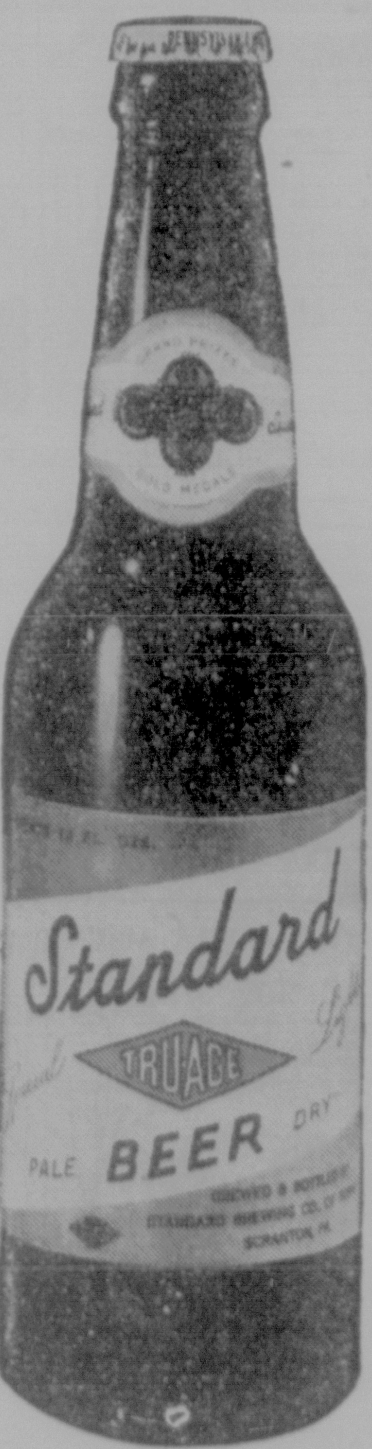

He didn't really mean it though.

Roberts, Brown Lead Phils To Win

St. Louis (AP) — Tommy Brown hit his ninth home run of the season into the left field bleachers in the tenth inning at Sportsman's park last night to give his Philadelphia Phillies a 2-1 triumph over the St. Louis Cardinals.

The extra-inning blow cut the cards' third place advantage over the Boston Braves to two games. It was Brown's first hit of the ball game and the fifth Phillies safety off losing pitcher Al Brazie.

On the strength of the home run by Brown, pitcher Robin Roberts was able to hang up his twentieth victory of the season against 12 defeats. Last year, while helping the Phils take the National league pennant, Roberts claimed a 20-11 record for the season.

Early Lead
The Cardinals moved into the lead early scoring their run in the first inning when Harry "The Hat" Walker singled back of second base with the bases loaded and two out.

In the fourth inning the Phils came back on a double by rookie Mel Clark to score Willie Jones with the tying run. Jones had walked and advanced to second on Del Ennis' infield out.

Enos Slaughter of the Cardinals frustrated a strong Philadelphia bid in the ninth when he raced to the right center field wall to haul down Granny Hamner's long drive and then threw the ball into the infield to double Clark off first.

One was out with Phillie runners on first and second at the time. Philadelphia 100 100 000 1—2 5 1 St. Louis 100 000 000 0—1 8 1

Eastburg Car Threat To Field

Pittston — Every one of the 36 steel nerved stock car pilots entered in tomorrow night's colorful speed and crash racing here at Bone Stadium Speedway, will be "gunning" for victory and top money, in the all important 25 lap main event.

Three intrepid stock car jockeys, Les Hoover, Harveys Lake; Bill Jenkins and Hank Boltz, Nanticoke, with four main event wins each this year will be favored by the thousands of fans who patronize the exciting automobile races every week. Hoover, Jenkins and Boltz are anxious to better the track record of four feature race triumphs, set by Ray Elston, Harveys Lake, last year, the inaugural season for "strictly stock" automobile racing at the popular speedway.

Accident

Pushing Bernie Clemens, East Stroudsburg car No. 37 to three main event wins since the first of August, and missing last week after a mechanic driver putting the car through a last minute tryout wrecked his car, Bill Bennett, Scranton, is the greatest threat to the top trio.

Second place went to Russkill Smokey, owned by George Simmons, Newton, N. J., while Homeplace Nifty, belonging to Charles Graver, Summit Hill, walked off with third place honors.

The four-day trial will be completed today, when the 15-inch all-age hitch class goes through its paces.

Tee Bee's Patricia Buck, owned by Preston B. Sirlamb, Fayton Lakes, N. J., finished fourth and reserve honors went to Bob's Promise, belonging to Fred Williams, Franklin, N. J.

A total of 26 dogs took part in the class judged by John Pape, Punxsutawney, and Walter Werkheiser, Bethlehem.

The four-day trial will be completed today, when the 15-inch all-age hitch class goes through its paces.

Each proposal shall be accompanied by a certified check in the amount of $500 drawn in favor of the Borough of Delaware Water Gap.

The successful bidder is required to furnish a Performance Bond in the amount of fifty per cent (50%) of the contract and a Labor and Material Bond in the amount of 100 per cent of the contract within ten days after the contract has been awarded and shall submit evidence of compliance with the Workmen's Compensation Laws of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, and upon failure to execute a proper agreement or to furnish the bonds within such time or to submit the evidence of compliance with the Workmen's Compensation Laws, the previous award shall be void.

No bidder may withdraw his bid within thirty days after the actual date of opening thereof.

Sealed bids must be in the hands of Edythe L. Glebe, Borough Secretary, Delaware Water Gap, Pa., not later than 1:00 o'clock P. M. (E.S.T.) September 24, 1951, at which time said bids will be opened and read in open session in Court to be held in the Fire House, Main Street, Delaware Water Gap, Pa.

The Borough Council reserves the right to reject any or all bids.

By Order of the Borough Council.
EDYTHE L. GLEBE, Borough Secretary.

Forestry Department Makes Tree Plantings Available

District Forester E. C. Pyle yesterday announced types of forest tree planting stock available for shipment this Fall and Spring of 1952 in conjunction with a statement by Gov. John S. Fine that the latter part of this month will be observed as "Plant Pennsylvania Week."

The Governor said the observance will be permanent. It is designed to conserve natural resources of land through planting of trees, shrubs and grasses by all people, both public and private agencies.

Pyle said trees will be reserved in the order in which applications are received until the available supply of each species is exhausted.

The district forester said application forms—FWEE-5—must be submitted. They are obtainable at the district forester's office at 1081 W. Main St., Stroudsburg.

Minimum order acceptable is for 1,000 trees in lots of 500 of each species. Price per thousand is $6 for seedlings and $15 for transplants. All prices are FOB the State nursery.

It is expected that the following types of seedlings will be available:

Red pine, white pine, Norway spruce, white spruce, hemlock, Austrian pine, banks pine, pitch pine, Scotch pine, table mountain pine, Virginia pine, European and Japanese larch, green ash, white ash, wild black cherry, black locust, sugar maple, red oak, white oak, black walnut.

Transplants species expected to be available include:

Red pine, white pine, Norway spruce, white spruce.

Dr. E. O. Hendrick will be out of town from Sept. 15th until Oct. 1st. —Adv.
